

Europe and Beyond

Spring 2019 Interdisciplinary Research Seminars

The Bill and Carol Fox Center for Humanistic Inquiry

The principal goal of Europe and Beyond is to foster research-centered, cross-disciplinary intellectual community among faculty and graduate students working on Europe and Europe-related topics. The presenters constitute the seminar's core group; they attend all the sessions and participate in discussion of each other's projects. But these are open seminars; everyone is welcome to come and to join us for dinner afterwards.

Spring Schedule and Presenters:

- | | |
|--|---|
| Mar. 4: Julia López Fuentes
Emory University | "Spain's Memory Laws and the Rise of the European Community of Memory, 1977-2007" |
| Louis A. Ruprecht, Jr.
Georgia State University | "Hegel's World History and the Greek War for Independence" |
| Apr. 1: William Nichols
Georgia State University | "Designing Desire: Tourism in Spain, the Hotel, and the Architecture of Pleasure" |
| Andrew Zonderman
Emory University | "Negotiated Settlement: German Migrants on the Eighteenth-Century British North American Borderlands" |
| Apr. 29: Alessandra Raengo
Georgia State University | "Cosmopolitanism, Contemplation and the Ontopolitics of Movement in John Akomfrah's Gallery Practice" |

Seminar Format:

The seminars will be held on Monday afternoons, from 4:15-6:15 pm, in the FCHI seminar room. Papers (of about 20 pages) will be circulated in advance so that most of each two-hour session can be devoted to open discussion and interdisciplinary dialogue. In each hour, one of the authors provides a précis (10 minutes), which is followed by a brief (five-minute) formal response, usually from a different disciplinary perspective. The remainder of the hour is devoted to open discussion among all participants. After the seminar, conversation will continue over a light dinner buffet provided by the FCHI.

The European Studies listserv relays information on upcoming events and speakers. If you would like to add your email address, please contact Kimberly Schrimsher at keschri@emory.edu.